About FDP

The Whole Indian development model based on what we can call 'inside out' way of development. With the priority on skills, the value aspect is largely missing. In educational institutions, and consequently in society, the manifest problems range from self-centeredness, acute competitiveness and insensitivity towards other expresses need of Moral Values, Ethics, Behavioural Sciences & Attitude targeting Outcome-Based Education. The emphasis of FDP is on communicating human values and ethics in day to day language with real-life examples. Also, the focus is on how to make the theme relevant to the academics in their personal and professional lives and that of the other stakeholders. The FDP would highlight various options for resolving ethical problems and dilemmas; in other words, how can we use ethics for problem-solving as opposed to mere problem identification and redefinition.

Objectives of FDP

- 1) To acquaint with Value-based Integrated Teaching and Learning

- 2) To understand, develop and explore ethics and morals
- 3) To identify Human Values & Professional Ethics and sensitize the Faculty to the possibility of a humane society
- 4) To provide the guidelines for Professional Ethics to make learning a particular aspect of human conduct
- 5) To comprehend What, Why and How of attitudes and knowing various strategies for modulating attitudes through Life skills
- 6) To facilitate self meditative assessment of effectiveness in teaching.
- 7) To aid revelation to the latest pedagogical methods including technology-enabled Learning
- 8) To offer requisite exposure for aligning quality teaching & learning with Accreditation(s) integrated with Values, Ethics, and Attitude
